CITY DADS MEET

Hold Short Business Session at the City Hall Last Evening.

The city council met in regular session last evening at the city hall, Mayor Nash presiding. The meeting was a short one, there being very little to do outside of the allowance of a few bills for labor, which were not large.

A petition was presented by George W. Paulus asking the city to assume the suit against the Consolidated Water Power & Paper Co. for the recovery of taxes paid back to the company by the city during the year 1904. The amount of the taxes related to the company is $1,758.30. There was a short discussion over the matter and there seemed to be some difference of opinion as to what the city attorney had advised on the matter, so the matter was referred to him by the city. It is probable that nothing will be done in the matter until the next meeting of the city council, when it is hoped that an opinion in the case will be forthcoming.

There was a discussion as to whether the Northwestern railroad was liable for sewer taxes on property lying alongside of their right of way. The company had asked for a rebate of the sewer tax, claiming that the land was not subject to taxation at all, as it had not appeared in the tax roll. Some of the aldermen were of the opinion that the company was liable for the tax, while others thought not. Attorney D. D. Conway appeared for the railroad company. The matter had been referred to the city attorney at the last meeting, but his answer on the matter was not very clear, and so the matter was re-referred to him. The finances of the city are showing a decided improvement over what they were a year ago, and there is indication that if rigid economy is practiced for another year or two, the city will be in pretty good shape.

Herr Koehls made the council a short address in German, which was listened to by those present with considerable interest. Mr. Koehls is laboring under the impression that he has been swindled out of some land by somebody and came before the council to have the matter righted. Those who have examined his deed say that he bought a couple of lots and that he imagines that he has some thirty acres coming, and he thinks the city fathers are humbugging him when they do not turn over to him the balance of what he thinks he has coming. It is evident that the man is laboring under a delusion of some sort. It seems that he has sought legal advice from out of town and this instead of helping him out of his difficulty has only gotten him deeper in.

There being no further business the council adjourned.

A New Fraternal Order.

A new insurance order has been organized with headquarters at Marshall field, the name of it being the Wisconsin Bonifant Association. A representative of the order was in the city last week and it is probable that a lodge will be organized here. The scheme is along the same lines as the other insurance orders, there being sick benefits as well as benefits for partial or total disability.

New Building Starts.

A gang of men were started at work Monday morning on the new store building which the Wood County bank people propose to erect at the back of their present building. The new structure will be 28x50 feet, and two stories high and of solid brick. An early start has been made with the hope of getting the foundation in before high water comes to interfere with the work.

Notice of Annual School Meeting

Agreeable to Section 2, Article 9, Grand Rapids city charter, pertaining to schools, notice is hereby given that the annual school meeting of Grand Rapids school district No. 1, to elect commissioners and to transact such general business as may legally come before it, will be held at the Howe school building, situated in the second ward of the city of Grand Rapids, Monday, March 20th, 1905, at 7:00 o'clock p. m.

Commissioners are to be elected as follows:
First Ward—Commissioner to succeed W. H. Reeves whose term expires April 8th, 1905.
Second Ward—Commissioner to succeed A. L. Fontaine whose term expires April 8th, 1905.
Third Ward—Commissioner to succeed T. A. Lipke whose term expires April 8th, 1905.
Fourth Ward—Commissioner to succeed J. J. Looze whose term expires April 8th, 1905.

Commissioner to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. H. Wiperman (short term).
Fifth Ward—Commissioner to succeed Otto Bein whose term expires April 8th, 1905.
Sixth Ward—Commissioner to succeed E. Oberbeck whose term expires April 8th, 1905.

Seventh Ward—Commissioner to succeed F. X. Pominville whose term expires April 8th, 1905.
Eighth Ward—Commissioner to succeed J. W. Natwick whose term expires April 8th, 1905.

H. S. Youker,
Clerk of Board of Education.

May Revise Game Laws.

Senator Wiperman, while in the city on Sunday, met with a number of the hunters in this locality to see what their ideas were in regard to the game laws of the state, and to see if there was any desire to have them revised. Mr. Wiperman stated that there was an inclination among the legislators to have prairie chickens protected with no open season from two to five years. The sentiment of the hunters from this section, however, was in favor of leaving the law as it is now, with an open season from the first of September to the first of December, and it is probable that this will be done in the counties in this immediate vicinity.

Mr. Wiperman also stated that there was a movement on foot to place a clause in the deer law to prohibit the shooting of anything but bucks by hunters, thus entirely protecting the does and fawns. To propose anything of this sort seems a farce to the man who has hunted deer to any extent, and it was the universal sentiment of those present that it would be better to limit the killing of deer to one to each hunter in preference to making the other change.

As to the protection of trout, it is probable that the closed season will be extended to the first of May, with no change in other respects. Mr. Wiperman also stated that he had a scheme for reducing the number of game wardens in the state. The work has all been done by about twenty-five of the wardens that now exist, and it is Mr. Wiperman's plan to divide the state into twenty-five districts and have one warden for each district. Where there is little or no game the districts could be large, and in the northern part of the state where game is plentiful they could be much smaller, and thus the entire state could be covered just as effectively as it is now, and at a much cheaper rate. The appointment of these 25 wardens would be by recommendation of some body of men in the district in which he serves.

Mr. Wiperman stated that there was a movement on foot to pass a law prohibiting the use of repeaters by hunters in Wisconsin. The claim is made that the use of these guns do a great deal toward cleaning out the small game, and it is a well known fact that a man who is expert in the use of them can often kill off a whole covey of birds at the first rise. The average hunter is not committing a law of this kind, as the true sportsman wants to give the game some show, and does not care to bring home many more birds than he can use himself. The senator intimated, however, that this law was being talked of by a class of legislators who had their hand out for donations, and that it was probable that if the Winchester company, who supply the greater number of these repeaters, would do the right thing by these grafters, that the law would not be passed.

There is also talk of passing a law to protect rabbits, but it is no known whether anything will be done along this line. Rabbits have always been considered more or less of a nuisance, so that any law which looked toward their protection is looked on by hunters as more or less of a farce.

It is probable that the bounty on wolves will be increased, as hunters are pretty generally unanimous in the idea that the wolves kill off more deer than do the hunters. It is certain that a large number of wolves have shown up in the northern part of the state during the past winter, probably on account of the deep snow and cold weather, and hunters think that if the bounty were raised to about $25 per head it would be the cause of exterminating these animals in short order.

Held to Circuit Court.

Edward Severance of Pittsville had his hearing before Justice Cooper on Monday, and he was bound over to appear at the next session of the circuit court, giving bonds in the sum of $500. Severance is charged with adultery in connection with the Pinnig girl of Pittsville, mention of which case was made in the columns of the Tribune. There were thirteen witnesses examined for the prosecution, but the defense offered no witnesses at the examination. The other three parties who are mixed up in the deal are still at large.

A Good Show.

The Joseph Vengas company in the Merchant of Venice at the opera house on Thursday evening gave our citizens one of the best plays for some time. The portrayal of Shylock by Mr. Degrosso was really first-class and there is no doubt but his efforts were thoroughly appreciated by those present. He was ably supported by the remainder of the company and taken altogether it was a very happy rendition of this most popular Shakespeare drama.

SUGAR BEET TALK.

Officer of the Chippewa Refinery Addresses Farmers at the City Hall.

On Saturday afternoon a meeting was held at the city hall by A. F. Postel, agricultural manager for the Chippewa Falls beet sugar company. Mr. Postel came here for the purpose of addressing the farmers on the subject of raising sugar beets. Owing to the fact that the meeting was not sufficiently advertised there was not many farmers present, the entire attendance being very small. This was unfortunate, as Mr. Postel gave them a very interesting and instructive talk, which might have been listened to with profit by any agriculturist, no matter whether he intended to engage in the raising of beets or not.

He told of the methods pursued in the raising of beets for sugar, from the preparation of the soil to the shipping of the product in the fall, and the methods as described by him were so different from the usual plans pursued by agriculturists that it is no wonder that those who go into beet culture often make a failure of it the first year or two.

He also answered any questions that might be asked by those present relative to the industry, outside of the mere raising of the crop. He also stated that when the plant was established at Chippewa Falls, that a large percentage of the farmers who went into beet raising had made either a complete or partial failure, and had it not been for the fact that the company had made three years' contracts they would have been entirely without beets the second year. He stated, however, that some who had made the most complete failure in the first place, had, after learning the business, been the most enthusiastic growers, and annually made a good thing out of the business.

Mr. Postel's object in coming here was to try to induce some of the farmers who live near shipping points to engage in beet culture on a small scale and ship their beets to the Chippewa factory. The raising of beets takes considerable attention until they have got large enough to be beyond the reach of weeds, and as a consequence the average farmer would not be justified in attempting more than from one to three acres unless he is blessed with an unusually large family of more than ordinary energy.

The price paid for the beets varies according to the amount of sugar they contain, the lowest price being four dollars per ton up to five dollars per ton. This is with the freight deducted, which amounts to fifty cents per ton. According to Mr. Postel's explanation the average farmer could handle from one to three acres of beets without interfering seriously with his other farm work, and with an average of fifteen tons per acre would not him from sixty to one hundred and eighty dollars. Mr. Postel laid great stress on the proper preparation and the richness of the soil, stating that a great many of the failures resulted from attempting to raise beets on patches of ground that contained so little nutriment that no kind of a crop could be harvested.

He stated that an agent of the company would visit this section in the spring and see what could be done toward making contracts with the farmers who are close to the shipping stations.

Met Sudden Death.

Gustavo Shanmatsky died very suddenly on Saturday evening, while on his way to his home on the east side. He was passing along the road when he fell to the ground, where he lay without making any effort to rise. Some pedestrians who were going along the same way behind him went to his assistance, and attempted to raise him to his feet, but it was evident that he was not able to help himself. While they were attempting to assist him he breathed his last, before medical assistance could be summoned. Justice Cooper was notified of the man's death and he impounded a coroner's jury. The jury consisted of R. O. Wiperman, F. G. Gilley, S. A. Rintelman, F. W. Kern, Jacob Searls and Henry Peller. The jury viewed the remains and returned a verdict that the deceased had come to his death from natural causes, probably due to over intoxication.

Deceased was a man 55 years of age, and was widower. He has been employed about the city as a common laborer, and was known to be addicted to the excessive use of intoxicants, which was probably one of the causes that hastened his end.

Making Many Pictures.

Last week a reporter for the Tribune visited the photographic studio of Oswald Menzel, and found that gentlemen one of the busiest men in town. Mr. Menzel has been engaged in the manufacture of stamp photos during the past month and the number of people who have taken advantage of the opportunity, to have their picture taken is something wonderful. He stated that during the month of February he made about five hundred sittings, and on some days his place of business was so full that he was hardly able to move about and do the work he was called upon to do. A large number of his patrons for this line of work have been children, who use the stamp photo to distribute among their friends, also there are also a number of grown people who take advantage of the opportunity to get cheap pictures.

Win From Plainfield.

The basket ball game on Friday evening between the local basket ball team and the team from Plainfield resulted in an overwhelming victory for the local boys, the score standing 15 to 13 in favor of the home team. The boys say that had they been in good condition they would have beaten the visitors even worse than this, but three of the members of the team were not feeling very well, and this, they claim, prevented them from playing as good a game as they would have done otherwise. Last season the Plainfield team beat our boys two games, and as a consequence they feel that they have demonstrated the fact that they are playing a better game than they did at that time. The crowd in attendance was very large, only about one-half the usual number being present.

Civil Service Examination.

The dates for the examination for the railway mail and departmental service and for positions in the Philip plus service have been announced by Carl McCabe, chairman of the local civil service examination board, as follows: For railway mail service, La Crosse, March 22; Madison, March 24; Milwaukee, March 25; and Stevens Point, March 26. For departmental positions in the Philip plus service, Appleton, April 19 and at Madison, La Crosse and Milwaukee, April 15. Applications for taking the examinations should be made at Washington ten days before the date of the examination.

Wants to Hold Fairs.

John Bell, sr., has started a movement for holding weekly fairs in this city and in order to set the matter before the public and get an expression on the subject a meeting will be held at the city hall on Saturday evening next at 7:30 o'clock, to which all who are interested in the matter are invited. In other towns and cities where those fairs have been held they have proven eminently successful, and have been a good thing both for the party who has something to sell as well as the one who wants to purchase, and there is no question but that they would prove equally successful and lucrative here. Those who are interested in the matter are requested to be at the city hall next Saturday evening any way and see what can be done along this line.

Military Co. to Disband.

It is reported by the Wausau papers that company G of the third regiment, W. N. G. will disband this summer, the organization not receiving sufficient support so that the members and officers cared to continue it in existence. There is a chance for Grand Rapids young men to organize a military company, as the abandonment of the company would leave a vacancy in the national guard. To maintain a military company in proper style necessitates considerable work, but the work is considered to be good training for the young men who join an organization of this sort and the members never fail to get a lot of pleasure out of it.

Lecture Course Closed.

The last lecture of the course given by the Lyceum Lecture Bureau occurred at the opera house on Monday evening, being delivered by Wilford Clure. There was a good crowd in attendance to hear Mr. Clure and those present pretty generally expressed themselves pleased with his entertainment. The course all three has been a good one and our people have been enabled to hear a class of people by this means that they otherwise might never have heard. It is understood that the receipts of the course were not quite sufficient to pay the entire expenses, but there is no doubt that the deficit can be made up with ease by a subsequent entertainment by some talent, to which our people are always ready to subscribe.

OLD SETTLERS GONE.

Death Calls Several of Our Older Citizens to Their Last Rest the Past Week.

John Paterek, one of the old settlers of this locality, died on his home on the west side last Wednesday evening, about 8 o'clock. He had been sick for about a month. He was taken sick with the grip, and had recovered sufficiently to be around when he entered a relapse and two everything possible was done for him it was impossible to save his life.

Mr. Paterek was sixty-nine years of age and had lived in this locality for the past thirty years. He was a musician by trade and was at one time interested in the Grand Rapids family. He was survived by his wife and five children, the latter being George Paterek, Mrs. K. Schoeder of Tomahawk, Mrs. E. Korman of Stevens Point, Mrs. C. Korman of Springville and Mrs. N. Perry of Plainfield.

The funeral occurred on Friday, the remains being interred in Forest Hill cemetery, Rev. W. A. Peterson officiating.

Amable Peyruse.

Death has again visited the village of Wood county this time visiting among its countless thousands the name of Amable Peyruse, who has for over a half century made his home in this city. Amable Peyruse died Friday night at his home on the west side. He had been in poor health most all winter and owing to his advanced age of 75 years, recovery was not anticipated.

Mr. Peyruse was born in Lorraine, Canada, July 11, 1829. He came to this country in 1853 and settled on Grand Rapids. His early life was spent farming for several years, and then he moved here and engaged in the lumber business before the St. Paul road was built. He was survived by a wife, a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Tindan of Arbor Vire, and two sons, Louis and Joe, all of whom were here at the death.

The funeral took place from the Catholic church on Monday forenoon, Rev. Hugonoff officiating, and the remains were laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Garrioven, Lombard, Barrett, Marcoux, Gakey and Griesen.

Charles Lee Duncan.

Charles L. Duncan, one of our old settlers of this city, passed away at his home on Saturday, after an illness of almost a year. Mr. Duncan has been ailing for some time past but was only confined to his home about a year much of the time. He had a complication of diseases from which he was unable to get relief, and notwithstanding the effort of his physicians he passed away on Saturday, March 4th.

Deceased was born in Canada County, N. Y., on the 11th of March, 1844, and he came to Jefferson Co., Wisconsin, in 1846. He resided there until 1861, when he enlisted in the Union army and served through the civil war. At the close of the war he returned to Jefferson county where he learned the miller's trade.

He was married in 1869 to Miss Louisa Parlin in Wausau county, and came to Grand Rapids in 1886. Mr. Duncan is survived by his wife and one son, the latter being Fred Duncan of this city. The funeral was held on Monday, Rev. W. A. Peterson conducting the funeral services. Mr. Duncan being a member of the Methodist church. Mr. Duncan was also a member of Wood County Post, G. A. R., and his old comrades of that organization had charges of the funeral.

Among those who were here from abroad to attend the funeral were George Duncan, of Wausau Co., Mrs. Eliza Frohman of Oshkosh, a sister to Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. John Button of Wausau county, Mrs. Emma Bloomer of Merrill, a niece of Mr. Duncan's.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Clara F. Leiberger, of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye, so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye. Good for burns and scalds too. Only 25c at Daily Drug & Jewelry Co. drug store.

Getting at the Bottom of It

Why not? It's the quickest way to remedy the trouble. If your last bill of lumber wasn't satisfactory, don't sit and wonder about it—get at the bottom of the trouble. We don't want a single man (nor a married one, either) to use poor lumber as long as we can furnish him the right kind. And we can—it's here in our yard—all under cover, well piled and at right prices. Buy a load next time.

Grand Rapids.

The editor of The Herald paid a visit to Grand Rapids on Tuesday of this week and it was about ten years since we had been there before. We naturally found many changes and improvements, but still not so many as we had been led to expect from the many stories sent out of the boom of the old town as having the past few years. There have been many fine business houses and other buildings of a substantial nature erected within the past few years, the magnificent water power of the rapids has been developed by means of a great dam, a mammoth paper mill has been added and a new line of railroad secured. But notwithstanding all this Grand Rapids still has the appearance of a sleepy old country town.

It is wholly lacking that air of self and bustle and progressiveness that attracts and favorably impresses the stranger within its gates. It has not the tidy, sprightly appearance that makes a city, as it does a home, enterprising. In fact, to the casual observer it has the appearance of a big, overgrown, sleepy village. The people on the best residence streets of the city prefer to walk through the snow to their knees rather than to show the walls, and we presume their pastures their cows on the lawns.

Grand Rapids is deserving of a better fate. With its fine natural location, its almost unlimited water power and its exceptional railroad facilities, it should become one of the busiest manufacturing and wholesale business centers in Wisconsin. Its future rests with its own people. If they will but awaken to a proper appreciation of the city's advantages and their own responsibilities, Grand Rapids will force to the front; if not it will lag by the way side and never amount to much.—Wausau Herald.

The Herald man should remember that Rome was not built in a day, and that it took the Supreme Being, with all his knowledge and power, seven days to create the earth, and the other things necessary for the good of mankind. And notwithstanding that it was created by an all wise being, there are some people who see fit to find fault with it. In passing from a lumbering town to either a manufacturing city, or an agricultural center, there is always a period of slowness and decay, the traces of which often take years to efface, and that is the case at Grand Rapids. The people of this city need not feel ashamed of the progress that has been made during the past few years, and if it continues in the years to come we may yet have a city here to be proud of. The appearance of Grand Rapids is probably not so much due to its present inhabitants as those who have gone before. They, evidently, never expected Grand Rapids to amount to much, and built accordingly. The buildings that have been erected during the past few years are such as would even look good in Wausau.

Reno Journal: A farmer out west pleased with the package or two of seeds sent him annually by his congressman wants to know why the same government cannot give to those wishing to promote fancy breeds of like stock the original stock where with to start in. In fact there is no reason, except it would cost more and could not be so generally applied for political purposes.

Why stop at a distribution of seeds and live stock. There are many other things that all cases of people might be benefited by if they could get them for nothing or at the expense of the government. One would think that the people in general would sit down on this seed fake and compel the government to stop it. Not one-hundredth part of the seeds that are distributed are ever planted, and as a consequence never accomplish the mission it is intended they should. In many cases where large bunches of seeds are sent to some person for distribution they are never given out at all, but are allowed to lie around or either fed to chickens or something even less useful. The benefits derived from the seed distribution is practically nothing, and it would seem as if even the congressmen themselves would become ashamed of such a wasteful and unproductive practice without being asked to.

The citizens of Green Bay witnessed a scene one day last week, the like of which was never before heard of in that city. Mayor Minahan ordered the chief of police to collect all the gambling devices in the city and convey them to the city hall. There were a number of roulette wheels, faze layouts, crap tables and slot machines gathered in and when they arrived at the city hall the mayor met them with an ax. He broke the costly articles into a pile of kindling wood, saturated them with kerosene, and applied a light, and the gambling devices went up in smoke.

LENTEON SEASON.

The Many who Annually Observe this Season will now Have a Much Needed Rest.

Today is Ash Wednesday, the beginning of the Lenten season, which means that there will probably be a temporary cessation in the round of festivities that have been national in society in this locality for some time past. Each year finds a larger number of people observing this season, as most of them find its observance a grateful change from the usual round of hilarity. Lent lasts until Easter Sunday, which falls on April 23rd. The following are the regulations of the diocese of Green Bay:

1. All Fridays and fast days during the year are days of abstinence from flesh meat. On Saturdays, which by law are also days of abstinence, flesh meat is allowed by Apostolic indulgent at all meals, unless they happen to be fast days.

2. The following are fast days of obligation: All days of Lent (except Sundays); the Ember-days; the Vigils or Vows of Pentecost, of the Assumption of B. V. M., of All Saints, and of Christmas; lastly, the Fridays of the year.

On fast days only one full meal a day is allowed to persons obliged to fast. But indulgent and custom allow coffee, tea, chocolate, with a piece of bread in the morning, and the use of eggs, butter, milk, etc., in the evening. For sufficient reason, the collection (lunch) may be taken at noon and the dinner or principal meal in the evening.

By Apostolic indulgent flesh meat is allowed only at the principal meal on all week days during Lent except Wednesdays and Fridays (Feb. 27) Saturdays in Ember week (April 2) and Holy Week (April 2). On fast days, flesh meat and fish (including oysters, crabs, frogs, turtles, etc.) are never allowed at the same meal, a rule which applies even to the Sundays in Lent and to all persons who are otherwise excused or dispensed from the law of either abstinence or fast. But meals may always be prepared with the drippings of either fat or lard.

Persons excused from fast may use flesh meat more than once on the day when it is allowed at all.

3. Catholics having attained the sufficient use of reason are bound by the law of abstinence. But when it is either physically or morally impossible to observe the law, or when it would entail serious difficulties, they are excused from it.

In virtue of the Apostolic faculties granted us by the Holy See we hereby delegate pastors to dispense, in each single case, from abstinence the meat actually engaged in threshing as well as the farmer families at whose place threshing is going on; the same dispensation is granted to men in the lumber camps.

4. Catholics having completed their 21st year of age, are bound to fast. But the cases of excuse just mentioned in regard to abstinence, apply also to the law of fasting. Hence the church entirely exempts from fasting the sick and those in feeble health (whether by sickness or old age); women nursing children; all who are engaged in laborious and exhausting occupations. Persons in doubt whether they are excused or not, should consult their confessor or pastor for advice or dispensation.

In virtue of an Apostolic indulgent we permit workmen and their families the use of flesh meat at the principal common meal on all fast days and abstinence days throughout the year, with the exception of all Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the Holy Week and the Eve of Christmas.

5. Persons excused or dispensed from the law of fast or abstinence ought to perform some other good works of piety and charity in the spirit of Christian penance and satisfaction. Hence the pious custom of giving Lenten alms. "Redeem them thus from sin and alms, and thy iniquities with works of mercy." Dan. ix, 24. Also the custom of staying away from theaters, dances, card parties and other profane amusements, etc.

Bishop J. J. Fox, N. B.—1. The collection for Indian and Negro missions will be taken on the first Sunday of Lent.

2. A box or basket may be conveniently placed in the church, where the faithful can leave their Lenten alms or their contributions for the Holy Land (on Good Friday).

Will Erect a Warehouse.

As soon as the frost is out of the ground sufficiently to allow the work to begin L. M. Nash expects to commence the erection of a warehouse near the North-Western depot. The structure will be 40 x 20 feet and two stories high and will be built of concrete blocks. The building will be an implement and transfer house. It will be located on the land belonging to the Northwestern railway company, Mr. Nash having secured a lease for a long number of years. The erection of this warehouse will add very materially to the room of the hardware company, and enable them to simplify the work in many respects.

A Card.

Exhibit "A."

February 1, 1905.
To the Honorable County Board of Supervisors of Wood County, Wisconsin.

GENTLEMEN—I have in my office Wood county orders drawn prior to January 1, 1903 as follows:

days in it and to all persons however otherwise excused or dispensed from the law of either abstinence or fast. But meals may always be compared with the drippings of either fast or hard.

Persons excused from fast may be flushed more than once on the day when it is allowed at all.

2. Catholics having attained to sufficient use of reason are bound to the law of abstinence. But when it is either physically or morally impossible to observe the law, or when it would entail serious difficulties, they are excused from it.

Overwork Killing Us

In the Great Struggle for Wealth and Position We Are Becoming Weaker Than Our Forefathers.

By the cares of business and social life we use up or waste away the most vital elements of the human body before we realize our weak and run down condition. It seems on us so quietly at first that little or no attention is paid to the symptoms, which commence with a queer, bewildering sensation in the head, later the power to concentrate the thoughts, no necessary to brain workers, is lost. Following this will come deficient sight or blurred vision, muscular weakness and a dull pain in the small of the back. There is a tendency to tire easily; the digestion becomes impaired; the temper irritable; spirits depressed, ending in complete lack of confidence and a general feeling of disgust at our own weakness. When the mind and nerve forces have been wasted by disease, overwork, worry, brain-tire, high living, dissipation or other bad habits, Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food rebuilds the system, by replacing the same substances that have been lost. Price 50 cents.

Geo. M. Otto who has had charge of the grocery department at a Rye Brothers for the past two years, departed Tuesday for Rhinelander, where he has accepted a position with Spafford, Lipke & Cole. Mrs. Otto and children will remain here until spring before moving to Rhinelander.—Marshfield Times.

Hugh G. Corbett has taken a partner in the tailoring business in the person of Frank Mazur, of Chicago, who is an experienced tailor. Mr. Corbett is on the road traveling as advance man for a school of salesmanship, and is now in Ohio. Mr. Mazur will have charge of the shop during Mr. Corbett's absence.

John Vrwink of Vesper was among the callers at the Tribune office on Tuesday. Mr. Vrwink reports that several of his neighbors are preparing to go to Alberta, Canada, in the near future where they intend to take up homesteads and go to farming. They are Ira Decker, Ben Bode and Leonard Gelineau.

The mill of the Grand Rapids Lumber company started up on Tuesday. The mill will only run days at present, but it is expected that a night crew will be put on in the near future. The proprietors report that they had no trouble in securing plenty of help when they started up, as there were several men on hand for each job.

William See Mills, one of the early settlers of Stevens Point died in that city on Sunday after a lingering illness with heart trouble. Mr. Mills was a veteran of the civil war and served with the 22nd Indiana Infantry. Mr. Mills will be remembered by many here as having driven the stage between this city and Stevens Point for a number of years.

If you believe in laughing see Mahara's Minstrels March 15.

Section men on the railroads are kept busy these days. When they are not performing the work of keeping the track clear, they are at work putting in new rails. In many places the rails are badly damaged by having trains stuck on them and in trying to start up the slipping drivers will wear a place that injures the rail so that it has to be removed and a new one put in.

Postmasters have been notified by the postal authorities at Washington, who recognize the liability of postmasters to make mistakes in getting letters in wrong boxes, that they fix a penalty of $20 on persons taking mail out of the postoffice other than their own and not returning it. The law is to have people look at their mail before leaving the office, and if they should have mail other than their own they must return it at once. It also includes newspapers.

An Ironwood exchange has the following to say about one of our former residents: Floyd Moore left Tuesday evening for Houghton, where he enters the employ of the mercantile firm of Gottliebson & Whitney. Mr. Moore held the position of manager of the clothing department of the Ironwood Store company for about three years and is a first class man in his line. Floyd has a host of friends in Ironwood who will regret his departure from the city, but wish him success in his new location.

The Woman's Club of Madison contemplates the erection of a clubhouse to cost $30,000. The stock has been placed on the market, and already $7,000 of certificates have been disposed of. If the plans are carried thru the Woman's club building will be completed by Sept. 1. The structure is to be three stories high. There is to be a dance hall which will be used by university students and others. A cafe may be added. The location of the new building will be on East Gorham street, in the university section of the town. A unique feature of the stock company is the fact that not a dollar's worth of stock will be sold to men.

Senator Wiperman, a member of the judiciary committee, has drafted a bill to provide for the redistricting of the state into judicial circuits. The recommendation of the commission appointed two years for this work has been discussed before the committee at Madison for several days, attorneys from all parts of the state appearing for or against it. The Wiperman bill will conform to the recommendations of the commission except that Wausau county will remain in Judge Webb's district and there will be one term of court in Adams county instead of two. According to that measure Columbia county will be in a new circuit with Fond du Lac, Green Lake and Marquette counties.

Several of our local young men who enjoy boating have been considering the proposition of buying gasoline launches for use on the pond which has been created by the building of the dam at this point. The one drawback to the scheme is the fact that a boat that would be of use on the pond could not be used elsewhere very well. There are many places in the river where it is very shallow during low water, and even to one who knew the channel it would be almost impossible to navigate the stream with any kind of a boat that drew enough water to accommodate an engine. About the smallest of the gasoline boats draw a foot or more of water, which would be all right on the pond, but would be too much if the owner wanted to make a trip to the Delta, as is generally the case. Probably a boat of the stern wheel type like is used on the Mississippi might solve the problem.

A large number of our local fishermen have made application for bass and trout fry this spring and when they arrive they will be planted in the streams hereabouts. It is expected that some bass fry will be received this year, by means of which it is hoped to be possible to stock the two prongs of the river at this point. These places have become pretty well fished out during the past few years and the high dams have prevented the fish from running up the stream. Some of the local fishermen who have paid attention to this matter say that if there were fishways in the dams there would be plenty of fish in the ponds at this point at all times. If this is a fact it would be a good idea to induce the paper mill now to put fishways in their dams, as they are comparatively easy to construct, and cost very little money.

Geo. N. Wood will sell you residence lots in Glenwood Addition and build you a home thereon, on monthly installments, covering a period of five or ten years. The lots are level with the graded streets. Dry cellars, plenty of good drinking water, telephone and mail carrier. Price of lots $15.00 up.

A Decker, who has been in the west for several months, returned to this city on Thursday last and expects to spend a few weeks here before taking up his work again. Mr. Decker visited many of the western states during his absence and reports a most delightful trip. During most of his travels he only made a short distance each day, stopping off at every place where he thought there might be something that would prove interesting to him, and by this means he managed to see the country pretty thoroughly and impress on his mind what he had seen. He also visited the Lewis & Clark exposition at Portland, which, though not completed, is far enough along to give the visitor a good idea of what is going to be there, and impresses him with the knowledge that it is going to be a great exhibition. Mr. Decker says that a visit to the place will be well worth anybody's time who can afford to go.

Do you Love Music?

If you do you will do well to pay a visit to Frank Mahara's Big Minstrel Carnival when they appear here March 15. Mr. Mahara was one of the first minstrel managers to add a quartette of ladies' voices to his big chorus. Every song sung with this company is assisted by a chorus of twenty voices, and the colored race is the recognized leader in making rich, sweet melody.

Besides sweet singers and clever dancers, Mahara's Minstrels carry several big novelty acts alone worth the price of admission. Don't miss the concert at 7:30 p. m. in front of the theatre.

Teachers' Examination

Robert Morris, superintendent of schools of Wood county, has sent out the following notice of teachers' examinations for this county:

Teacher's examinations for the spring of 1905 will be held as follows:

At Pittsville, March 20, 21 and 22.

At Marshfield, March 23, 24 and 25.

At Grand Rapids, March 27, 28, 29, and 30.

Refilling privileges will be made known at the examination. Bring your present certificate with you. Certified final standings of 85 or above, obtained at a state normal school, will be accepted. All persons whose certificates expire before the end of this school year must attend one of these examinations. Examinations will begin at 9:00 a. m. the first day.

District clerks, please post as required by law.

Robert Morris, County Superintendent.

Girl Gone Wrong.

The following item from the Grantsburg Journal may be more or less of a surprise to our citizens:

Miss Hart a white girl, the daughter of Dr. Hart, government physician at the Winnebago Indian reservation near Grand Rapids, has eloped with a full blooded Winnebago Indian. The girl is possessed of exceptional beauty and was a society ball at Grand Rapids. She and the Indian went to South Sioux City, Neb., where they were married by the county judge. Her father is searching for the couple with a loaded revolver.

We have not noticed any irate fathers running around with loaded revolvers in this neighborhood of late, and it must be that the Grantsburg man has got his poison mixed in some unaccountable manner. The booze they sell up in the northern part of the state has an awful effect on a fellow at times and should be avoided as much as possible by reputable newspaper men.

Judge Cate Dead.

Judge George W. Cate of Stevens Point died at his home on Tuesday afternoon, word having been received here the same day by several of his friends, of which he has a large number here.

Mr. Cate was at one time circuit judge of this circuit many years ago, was also congressman. There was probably no man in Stevens Point who was more universally respected. He was 83 years of age.

GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

Reception for Mr. and Mrs. Shaw

On Thursday afternoon a reception was held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Cochran for Mr. and Mrs. B. J. H. Shaw, and a large number of friends of the family assembled at the home of Mrs. Cochran for the purpose of bidding their friends farewell. Refreshments were served during the afternoon and those present enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon. The following farewell address was delivered by Mrs. J. W. Cochran on behalf of the West Side Ladies' Aid society, in the same time presenting Mr. and Mrs. Shaw with a handsome clock, a gift from the society:

I have been chosen by the West Side Ladies' Aid society to bid you good-bye and to wish them every success in their new home.

Rev. and Mrs. Shaw, you have been in our midst about five years, and during this time you have carried us through many sorrows, you have been glad and happy in our joys, and last but by no means least, you have baptized our babies.

Many have a special reason to be grateful. You have drawn us nearer our Saviour, and made us see a light where there was but a faint glimmer. We wish to show our good will and appreciation in presenting to you this timepiece.

We hope time will deal gently with you. We hope time will occasionally bring you in us for a visit.

We know time will give you many new and dear friends in the new home, but none more sincere than those you have here.

We wish you God speed.

Runaway Accident.

About 10:30 o'clock this morning a team belonging to the Badger Box & Lumber Co. ran away and during their career they ran into a moving freight train on the St. Paul road and the result was that one of the horses was killed and the other was injured so seriously that it had to be killed. The team was in charge of Charles Schreiber, who managed to jump from the rig in time to prevent serious injury to himself, altho he was scratched and cut up somewhat.

RUDOLPH.

John Vandenhoven, a prosperous farmer and logger, whose home is at Rudolph, spent last Saturday in this city on a business trip. During the winter of 1902-'03 John and his brother cut 600,000 feet of logs some six miles north of Milladore, which were sawed last season and much of the lumber hauled to Milladore for shipment. During the present winter the boys cut only about 125,000 feet, which will be manufactured into lumber at Gustaf Berth & Son's mill. This project by the way, was partially delayed by fire a few weeks ago, but repairs have been made and the owners expected to resume work last Monday.—Stevens Point Gazette.

BABCOCK.

John Vandenhoven, a prosperous farmer and logger, whose home is at Rudolph, spent last Saturday in this city on a business trip. During the winter of 1902-'03 John and his brother cut 600,000 feet of logs some six miles north of Milladore, which were sawed last season and much of the lumber hauled to Milladore for shipment. During the present winter the boys cut only about 125,000 feet, which will be manufactured into lumber at Gustaf Berth & Son's mill. This project by the way, was partially delayed by fire a few weeks ago, but repairs have been made and the owners expected to resume work last Monday.—Stevens Point Gazette.
